

Application for the SPSI iCAPP Program 2022-24

We are delighted you are applying to the SPSI integrated Child and Adult Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy (iCAPP) Program. Our mission is to offer training in psychoanalytic psychotherapy theory and technique for clinicians from a variety of backgrounds and clinical settings. iCAPP endeavors to foster students' deepening understanding of their work and encourages them to apply their new skills across a range of practice settings with diverse client populations.

The two-track program integrates child and adult psychotherapy training with a focus on theory, technique, human development, and clinical process. Students will attend case conferences and classes specifically for either the child or adult track, as well as integrated classes.

Completed applications for the 2022-24 cohort are due by May 31, 2022.
