

Subject: Quote for Today

“If there is one lesson that I have learned during my life as an analyst, it is the lesson that what my patients tell me is likely to be true - that many times when I believed that I was right and my patients were wrong, it turned out, though often only after a prolonged search, that my rightness was superficial whereas their rightness was profound.”

—Heinz Kohut

Listen to Kohut in his own words in 1980 - a discussion of a presentation by Arnold Wilson of a study of Children of Holocaust Survivors:
